NOTES

WHERE WE WALKED:

Since it was such a hot day, we made it a short walk. We began at the parking lot, crossing LaBarque Creek on those excellent pedestrian bridges. A quarter-mile or so later, we arrived at a junction where the big 3-mile loop begins. Normally we'd continue straight and hike the big loop in a clockwise direction. But this time we were mainly interested in a glade that was near the end of the big loop. So we turned right and began walking the big loop in a counterclockwise direction until we arrived at the glade – about a quarter-mile later.

PHOTOS:

We're fortunate that Kathy Bildner and Ted MacRae have shared some of their photos with us. You can find the photos (and Ted's informative written notes) on our Google Drive HERE.
